What's so special about April 1st 2008?

After this date a child protection conference may make a decision that a child or children will be the subject of a Child Protection Plan.

The term 'Child Protection Register' and associated terms such as 'Register Custodian' will no longer be used.

However, the actual process of managing cases remains the same with child protection conferences, child protection plans, core groups, review conferences etc., all continuing as before.

So April 1st 2008 is special because children may then be the subject of a Child Protection Plan rather than have their name on a register.
